By using this web site, you consent to the Mancini•Duffy online privacy policy below.

Privacy Policy

Mancini•Duffy is committed to preserving your right to privacy. Mancini•Duffy does not collect personal identifying information about you (such as your name, address, telephone number, or email address) unless you voluntarily submit that information to us. Any information you submit to us is confidential and we do not sell or otherwise disclose such information to third parties.

We do not seek to collect or maintain information on our web site from those we know are under 13, and no part of our web site is structured to attract anyone under 13.

Information We Collect

Any automatically collected information may be maintained indefinitely and used for our internal business and marketing purposes, such as assessing traffic patterns and usage of various features on the web site, but will not be sold or otherwise disclosed to third parties for any purposes. Notwithstanding any other statements or representations here or elsewhere on our web site, Mancini•Duffy reserves its right to disclose any information in its possession if it is required to do so by law, or it believes, in good faith, that such a disclosure is necessary to comply with the law, defend our rights or property, or to respond to an emergency situation.

If you are concerned about the information you have voluntarily submitted to Mancini•Duffy through Contact Us, or would like to review, update, or delete that information, please contact us at:

Mancini•Duffy will make reasonable efforts to comply with your wishes.

Security

Our web site employs reasonable security measures to protect the personal information you voluntarily submit to it. Such security involves the use of SSL-secured web forms, firewalls, and other commonly employed security methods. However, even with these security measures in place, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure and we cannot guarantee the security of your information transmitted to our web site; any transmission is at your own risk.
